

CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT

FOR INTERNATIONAL PEACE

Life after START: New Challenges, New Opportunities

Co-sponsored by the Nonproliferation Policy Education Center and the Carnegie Nuclear Policy Program

Thursday, January 27, 2011

8:45–9:00 a.m.

Opening remarks by Henry Sokolski
Nonproliferation Policy Education Center (NPEC)

9:00–10:30 a.m.

Panel 1: Asian Challenges

Title: China and the Emerging Pacific Strategic Competition in Long-Range Precision Strike and Space Capabilities

Speaker: Mark Stokes, Project 2049 Institute

Commentator: Jim Thomas, CSBA

Panel papers for discussion:

*Evolving Aerospace Trends in the Asia-Pacific Region
The Asia-Pacific's Emerging Missile Defense and Military
Space Competition*

Title: Asian Drivers of Russian Nuclear Force Structure

Speaker: Jacob Kipp, former Deputy Director, U.S. Army School of Advanced Military Studies

Commentator: Phillip Karber, Georgetown University

Panel paper for discussion:

Asian Drivers of Russian Nuclear Force Structure

10:30–10:40 a.m.

Break

10:40 a.m.–12:10 p.m.

Panel 2: Potential Remedial Approaches

Title: Realizing Ronald Reagan's Other Dream: Eliminating Nuclear-Capable Ground-launched Missiles

Speaker: Henry Sokolski, NPEC

Commentator: Dennis Gormley, University of Pittsburgh

Panel paper for discussion:

Missiles for Peace

Title: Space Keep Out Zones: Arms Control that Might Just Work

Speaker: Paul Kozemchak, DARPA

Commentator: Jeff Kueter, George C. Marshall Institute

Panel papers for discussion:

Arms Control That Could Work

Self-Defense Zones in Space

Treaty on Self Defense Zones

12:10–1:30 p.m.

Lunch Discussion: Plutonium, Proliferation and Radioactive-Waste Politics in East Asia

Speakers: Jungmin Kang, Stanford Institute for Economic Policy Research; Thomas Cochran, Natural Resource Defense Council; Daniel Blumenthal, AEI

Panel paper for discussion:

Plutonium, Proliferation and Radioactive-Waste Politics in East Asia

1:30–3:00 p.m.

Panel 3: Stability in Southwest Asia

Title: Nuclear Weapons Stability or Anarchy in the 21st Century: China, India, and Pakistan

Speaker: Thomas W. Graham, Brookhaven National Laboratory

Commentator: George Perkovich, Carnegie Endowment

Panel paper for discussion:

Nuclear Weapons Stability or Anarchy in the 21st Century: China, India, and Pakistan

Title: Prospects for Indian and Pakistani Arms Control and Confidence Building Measures

Speaker: Zachary Davis, Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory

Commentator: Ashley Tellis, Carnegie Endowment

Panel paper for discussion:

Prospects for Indian and Pakistani Arms Control and Confidence Building Measures

3:00–3:10 p.m.

Break

3:10–5:00 p.m.

Panel 4: Nuclear Developments in the Middle East

Title: Nuclear Proliferation in the Middle East and Key Determinates of Nuclear Developments in the Middle East

Speaker: Douglas Frantz, Senate Foreign Relations Committee

Commentator: Patrick Clawson, Washington Institute for Near East Policy

Panel papers for discussion:

After Iran: Prospects for Nuclear Proliferation in North Africa

Nuclear Proliferation Prospects in the Middle East to 2025

Off and Running: The Middle East Nuclear Arms Race

Title: The First Blink: Kissinger and Nixon Give Israel's Nuclear Weapons Program a Pass

Speaker: Victor Gilinsky, former Commissioner 1976-1982, U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission

Commentator: Sasha Polakow-Suransky, Council on Foreign Relations