

Matthew O'Neill
Supervisory Special Agent, Global investigative Operations Center
U.S. Secret Service

Matthew O'Neill is a Supervisory Special Agent in the U.S. Secret Service (USSS), where he currently manages the Global Investigative Operations Center (GIOC), which supports the Secret Service's efforts to combat transnational organized criminal groups. He joined the USSS in 1998 and has been assigned to the New York and Boston Field Offices, in addition to a four-year assignment on the Vice President's Detail. Among other awards, Special Agent O'Neill has won the International Association of Financial Crimes Investigators (IAFCI) Investigator of Year Award, the DHS Meritorious Service Award, and the 2013 USSS Special Agent of Year award, for his efforts in investigating complex cybercrime investigations, ranging from point of sale terminal hacks to the bulk online sale of stolen personally identifiable information.
