

Russia's Nuclear and Missile Complex: The Human Factor in Proliferation

Introduction

Part One: The Study

Overview
Findings

Part Two: The Surveys

List of Figures
List of Tables

Nuclear Cities

1. Changes in Specialist Recruitment
2. Changes in the Qualitative Composition of Specialists Working in Closed Cities
3. Living Standards in Closed Cities
4. Moonlighting
5. Specialists' Financial Situation
6. Potential and Actual Emigration
7. Personnel Shift toward Private Business
8. Personnel Training for the Nuclear Industry
9. Nuclear Security and Personnel

Missile Cities

10. Migration as a Factor in the Evolution of Missile Cities
11. Specialists' Qualifications
12. Wages and Salaries
13. Income and Housing
14. Moonlighting
15. Financial Situation
16. Potential Emigration
17. Actual Emigration
18. Personnel Shift toward Private Business
19. Personnel Training for the Missile Industry
20. Missile Security and Personnel

About the Author
About the Carnegie Endowment