

WE'RE NOT THAT CARNEGIE...

[ But we do make friends and influence people. ]

We're the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

*And though you may not recognize our name, chances are you've heard our voice
in global affairs.*

Our non-partisan research projects build consensus, shape decisions, and influence outcomes in the key policy debates of our times. And in our award-winning magazine, FOREIGN POLICY, we provide a forum for today's most innovative thinkers and strategists.

From opening doors in Moscow and Beijing, to finding common ground on issues like global trade policy, arms control, and democratization, the Carnegie Endowment is creating real results – in Washington and around the world.

To join the debate, visit our website and explore the issues that are driving global change. Read articles and briefs, backed up by probing analysis and presented in clear, jargon-free writing, before they make news. Tune in to online events, and receive regular policy updates via our free e-news subscription service.
